Our Corporate Social Responsibility

Beyond being a proud member of “1% for the planet” reserving 1% of our profits to engage in smart environmental giving, Climbing the Seven Summits also donates a portion of your program fees towards our not for profit “Tiger of the Snows Fund” www.tigerofthesnows.com which aims to provide further education amongst underserved outdoor tourism communities.

Please choose one of the three options where you wish to direct your portion:

- Fund mountaineering training for a climbing Sherpa in the Khumbu Valley
- Fund medical or English skills training for an outdoor tourism worker
- Fund schooling for the child of an outdoor tourism worker

If CTSS incurs any costs or expenses on your behalf that are above and beyond the normal scope of program expenses outlined, including but not limited to search and rescue fees, or other unforeseen costs, you agree to reimburse those fees within 10 days of receipt. Other fees or schedule structures may apply - please refer to the program literature to see what's not & ensure you have understood our cancellation and refund policy as well as what is not included in your program.

Insurance:

Each participant is required to purchase trip insurance for their program. CTSS will not buy trip insurance for you and we strongly recommend cancellation insurance.

Cancellation and Refund Policy:

- All paperwork is to be returned and program fees are to be paid in full 120 days prior to the start of the program. CTSS reserves the right to withdraw enrolment from anyone who fails to meet these conditions.
- CTSS reserves the right to cancel a trip before the program start date for any reason. In this case CTSS will refund the deposit fee and any program fees that have been paid to CTSS, minus costs that have already been incurred on your behalf.
- Once a refund has been made, CTSS shall be released from any further liability including, but not limited to, other expenses incurred such as purchased gear, flights, time off work, insurance etc)
- We strongly recommend trip cancellation insurance as your deposit and program fees will be forfeited in the instance of your cancellation. (Upon application, we secure local outfitters, accommodation, permits, etc for you ahead of the program departure date and therefore deposits and program fees are non-recoverable)
- If for some reason you need to transfer from one program to another, CTSS will do its best to accommodate you where possible, but this cannot be guaranteed as expenses already incurred may be non-recoverable.

- Please be aware that if you have been admitted to a program but your doctor fails to sign your physician form by the due date, then your deposit will be forfeited.
